THE CHILDREN'S PAVILION (PREVENTORIUM)

DIRECTORS' REPORT

DECEMBER, 1922

IN offering the thirty-second annual report of the Sanatorium; the Directors note no change in the favorable results of the work begun so many years ago. An ever-increasing number of letters from former patients, many of whom were graduates of the institution more than a quarter of a century ago, is a gratifying proof of the lasting effects of the life in this Sanatorium.

With few exceptions in the past years there has always been a larger number of applicants than it was possible to receive in the Women's Department. With the later experiment of creating a Children's Department by the erection of a Pavilion for their special use, there was at first a disappointing lack of response, but as the work has become better known among physicians and the laity, there is a growing interest apparent, which has shown itself by an increase in the number of applications.

Quite recently the method of working with the Anti-Tuberculosis Associations in the vicinity of Boston augurs well for the future of this special work at Sharon. Arrangements have already been made with one of the largest anti-tuberculosis associations in this vicinity by which children in their district who are delicate, and possibly showing symptoms of beginning tubercular disease, can be received, carefully watched under the best hygienic conditions and returned to their homes with renewed health and the knowledge of how to take proper precautions against disease in the future. The open-air school provided at the Sanatorium gives graded instruction to the children, who are also taught basket-making and other useful occupations. The school-teachers have, up to the present, been graduates from the Women's Department. It is of vital importance to our communities that physicians and parents should be shown the importance of giving delicate children the benefit of such methods as are now used in many sanatoria, which may turn the scale in favor of a healthy adult life as against possible years of invalidism and the development of subsequent active disease. No one who has seen the wonderful change that usually occurs in the children who have been at the Children's Pavilion at Sharon can doubt its good effect. The whole nature of a child, mental, moral, and physical, seems to change for the better. For the benefit of those parents who may shrink from sending their children at a susceptible age among strangers, one need only refer them to the enthusiastic statements of those who have seen the results already accomplished.

The Directors therefore again appeal for substantial help, which has been hitherto generously provided. They solicit:

1. Contributions, both large and small, to defray the running expenses of maintenance, repairs, etc.

2. Contributions to the Endowment Fund, which now amounts to about $50,000. It is suggested that endowment funds for beds in the Women's Department and the Children's Pavilion be given in memory of relatives or friends. The income from $20,000 will amply supply the amount necessary for one bed. Smaller sums as endowments would be gratefully received as an aid to the same purposes.

3. A larger number of annual subscribers. Incidentally, a plan has been adopted to form an Alumnae Association among former patients, some of whom have already cordially responded to this suggestion, with a view to increasing the number of those who will give money annually in varying amounts.

4. Special sums for the maintenance of the X-ray Department — one of the most important features of the Sanatorium.

5. Special sums also for the maintenance of classes of instruction in basket-making, carpentry, etc., for the children and women.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT FOR 1922

TO THE DIRECTORS OF THE SHARON SANATORIUM:

Ladies and Gentlemen:

DURING the year there have been fewer repairs necessary than in most previous years. The painter, however, has kept steadily at work, and the buildings, with few minor exceptions, are in excellent condition. In the way of additions, a dumb-waiter has been installed between the pantry and the second floor, capable of carrying all of the trays needed for bed patients, which has been a great saving of strength and time for the nurses.

In addition, there has been built an open-air pavilion of somewhat rustic style, where the children may play in stormy weather. This pavilion was also used for the school during the Fall months, and is architecturally a pleasing addition to the rest of the structures. A cement porch has also been constructed from the girls' ward of the Children's Pavilion, and on pleasant days the beds may be wheeled directly out into the sunlight.

The garden has continued to yield well, and there are enough potatoes and other root crops to last through the Winter.

Fortunately, we have our last year's coal supply to fall back on at this time of fuel shortage. Since last Winter no coal was burned in the big furnace or at the Children's Pavilion for heating, but the dead limbs that were left lying in the woods following the lumbering operation were brought in and burned. This year we have had to begin on the stored coal for the main building, but there will be

THESE WERE DELICATE, TUBERCULOUS CHILDREN WHEN RECEIVED
Our open-air school, special care, nutrition and recreation, have, as usual, demonstrated their efficacy enough wood to last through part of the Winter for heating the Children's Pavilion.

The number of patients has remained about constant in the Women's Department, but the Children's Pavilion has never been full. There have been, however, more changes this year than usual, a considerable number of patients having to leave because of lack of funds. Appeals for help from those who cannot afford to pay the present rate seem to be increasing in number, and it is to be regretted we have not been able to have at least a few endowed beds. No more worthy memorial could be thought of.

The prospect of a filled Children's Building is very gratifying, and once a thorough knowledge of the value of treatment of children is understood by physicians and social workers, it is probable that we shall have a waiting list at the Pavilion. The majority of those parents who have had children with us are exceedingly enthusiastic over the treatment received, so that the prospect of success with the Children's Pavilion is now very bright.

SCHOOLROOM, CHILDREN'S PAVILION

six months' freedom from cough or sputum and whose general condition is one of health) is smaller than in previous years. This is doubtless partly due to the fact that several patients of a more advanced type than customary were admitted for the purpose of experimentation with special forms of treatment, and also from the fact that during the middle of the year there happened to be a larger exodus of patients at one time and fewer applications than usual of the earlier type case. The results on the average, however, have been as satisfactory as ever. Incidentally, it may be mentioned that in recent months there has been the usual number of applications, some of whom we have been unable to receive owing to lack of accommodations.

The medical staff are especially desirous that the work done in the Children's Department should be known by the laity as well as by professional associates. There are doubtless innumerable children in Massachusetts alone who need just such care as is offered at the Sanatorium; and the reason for occasional empty beds in the earlier days was undoubtedly due to the fact that the work was not sufficiently known throughout our State. The results thus far obtained among children are most encouraging, and more than justify the establishment of this department of the Sanatorium. Special efforts are now being made to spread information to anti-tuberculosis associations, health nurses, physicians, and the laity throughout our State.
